SECRETARIES OF CONFERENCES AND MISSIONS

The following list of Secretaries, with their post office addresses, is published herewith as an aid to the Bishops and Conference Secretaries in making the transfers of preachers, especially during the time of the Conference sessions. Often they are hindered, if it should be the Fall Conference that is being held, in making the transfer to a Spring Conference, by not knowing to whom to send the certificate of transfer. It is hoped this may be of advantage both to the Bishop and the Secretary.

This list is correct according to the latest information.—EDITOR.

DEATH ROLL

So when this corruptible shall have put on incorruption, and this mortal shall have put on immortality, then shall be brought to pass the saying that is written, Death is swallowed up in victory.

O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory? The sting of death is sin; and the strength of sin is the law.

But thanks be to God, which giveth us the victory through our Lord Jesus Christ.

Beyond the flight of time,
Beyond this vale of death,
There surely is some blessed clime
Where life is not a breath,
Nor life's affections, transient fire,
Whose sparks fly upward and expire.

There is a world above,
Where parting is unknown,
A long eternity of love,
Formed for the good alone;
And faith beholds the dying here
Translated to that happier sphere.

Thus star by star declines,
Till all are passed away,
As morning high and higher shines
To pure and perfect day;
Nor sink those stars in empty night,
But hide themselves in heaven's own light.

BISHOP NAPHITALI LUCCOCK

Naphitali Luccock was born in Kimbolton, Ohio, September 28, 1853, and died at La Crosse, Wisconsin, April 1, 1916. He studied at Ohio Wesleyan University, from which institution he received both the A.B. and the A.M. degrees, and later at the University of Pittsburgh, where he was given the doctorate in philosophy. He was a student of literature, knew and loved the best, which enriched his deliverances and helped make him, with his sense of humor, a most fascinating conversationalist. This, added to his genuine genius for friendship, gave him a warm place in the hearts of a large circle throughout the church.

He was a most faithful servant of the church, who in conspicuous pastorates and in the episcopacy contributed to the strengthening of the church and the extension of the kingdom of Jesus Christ. Having spent much of his life along what is known as "the border," in those States that lie between the North and the South, he had been a positive and constructive force in helping to bring the two Methodisms together. He was a genuine man, whole-souled, human, virile in his religious life, devoted to his church and loyal to his Christ. One of God's noblemen has gone home.

In estimating the work of Bishop Luccock one is inevitably drawn to his service in the field of irenicism. His keen mind was at the command of his best emotions in helping bring together particularly the different branches of the Methodist Church. He took an active part in ecumenical Methodism, was a member of the commission that arranged the Ecumenical Conference that was held in Toronto in 1911, was in the Commission on Federation with the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and the Methodist Protestant Church, had been a delegate from our church to the General Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South—in fact, by precept and example, by voice and by pen, he labored to break down the walls of separation in our world-wide and American Methodism in the larger interest of the kingdom of our Lord. He was catholic in his Christianity.

Years ago, while pastor of Union Church in Saint Louis, Missouri, Dr. Luccock, as he was then, associated himself with Rev. Dr. James W. Lee, one of the ablest and most influential men of the Church South, in the publication of the American Illustrated Methodist Magazine. It was a splendid attempt at interpreting our common Methodism through the pages of a single paper. The luminous style of the two editors, their knowledge of Methodist history, their interest in the larger denominational questions, and their devotion to the fraternal ideals did much to make ready the way over which the two churches are now traveling toward unification. That the magazine, which was privately financed, should not have continued many years, does not detract from the loftiness of its conception and the distinctiveness of its contribution to a great cause.

Dr. Luccock was professor in Allegheny College for three years before going to Saint Louis in 1888, and after that served Hyde Park Church, Kansas City, Missouri.

He was pastor in the latter place when he was elected to the episcopacy in 1912. He had produced several books, among them Christian Citizenship, and in collaboration with Dr. Lee, The Illustrated History of Methodism, as well as some volumes of sermons.

The General Conference that elected him to the episcopacy stationed Bishop Luccock in Helena, Montana. And he threw himself into his task with characteristic vigor and intelligence. He believed intensely in the area system of episcopal supervision, and through it had brought the Conferences of his area to a high state of efficiency. He organized a bishop's council, whereby he kept in touch with the farthest points of his field, brought together some of the best minds of the area for consultation, and through it inaugurated movements for educational, eleemosynary, and other institutions. He revealed himself in this to be an administrator of much ability.

The Bishop's death was not unexpected. He had been ill for some time. He suffered a serious breakdown brought on by diabetes. From this he had recovered, so that he was able to attend the bishops' meeting and the General Committees last fall. But he was in a weakened condition. A few weeks later he had an attack of pneumonia while in Jamestown, South Dakota. Recovering from this he traveled as far as La Crosse, Wisconsin, when he suffered a relapse, and in a little while was gone. He leaves three sons and two daughters: one son is Rev. Halford E. Luccock, a rising young preacher in the New York East Conference. His wife, who was Miss Etta Anderson, of Hammondsville, Ohio, after a long period of suffering went home several years ago.

The Methodist Episcopal Church is richer for the life of Naphtali Luccock, and through his ministry in this church the world has been blessed. A gentle soul, kindly and loving, a true disciple of his Lord, wearied with many years of faithful service, has entered into rest. And to him and to the church of his love and devotion it is light at eventide. American Methodism bows in gratitude for the influence of his life and work.

BISHOP WILLIAM PERRY EVELAND

How true the saying, "In the midst of life we are in death"! Little did Bishop Eveland think when he said to his friends, as did one of the disciples of the early Christian Church, "I go a fishing," that he would go no more on such a mission. No one will probably ever know just the facts of his going, but it seems reasonably correct to say that the metal fishing rod he carried over his shoulder came in contact with a high tension electric wire, and quick as the lightning's flash life was extinct. What a strange coincidence that in the same hour when we were reading the news in the daily paper we should read an editorial in the current issue of The Christian Advocate making reference to an article by the Bishop in the midsummer Methodist Review, where, speaking of the great Central Conference of Southern Asia, he used these words: "With few elections and no anxious candidates there were no earthward ends to ground the wires between that assembly and God." But the fishing rod was the ground wire that took him to God.

Bishop Eveland was born in Harrisburg, Pa., February 12, 1864, and died July 23, 1916. He was educated at Pennington Seminary and Dickinson College, where he graduated in 1892. He was married October 13, 1893, to Clara Rosalie Mullin. His pastorates began in 1895. For one year he was at the head of the Jacob Tome Institute at Port Deposit, Md., then in pastoral work again, and from 1905 to 1912 was president of Dickinson Seminary at Williamsport, Pa. The General Conference of 1912, at Minneapolis, chose him as a missionary bishop for Southern Asia. His special field was the Philippines, to which he gave most thorough and careful attention for the past quadrennium, and was only refreshing himself by a little freedom from care that he might give himself with fresh zeal to his great work, but it is finished and he has gone to his reward.

"The workman dies, but the work goes on."
